I) PHILOSOPHY

Freedom is doing whatever one wants to do to attain life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness while not infringing on anyone else's freedom.

The philosophy is the goal to be achieved.

Describe the meaning of the statement through its segments and give examples for each segment;

segment one is- life

segment two is- liberty

segment three is- pursuit of happiness

segment four is- not infringing on anyone else's freedom

Give a summary statement that leads to your point of view about the philosophy and explain your position.

II) THESIS

The majority rules through a democratic republic form of government.

The thesis is the means for achieving the philosophy.

Describe the meaning of the statement through its segments and give examples for each segment;

segment one is- the majority rules

segment two is- democratic republic

segment three is- government

Give a summary statement that leads to your point of view about the thesis and explain your position.

III) ANALYSIS

The War of 1812 is considered the second American Revolution. The United States of America fought Great Britain with the results once again determining the sovereignty of the Americans.

The analysis is the logical order of events that describe the causes, events, and results of a particular part of history.

Freedom for the country and its people was an issue that was determined by the outcome of the War of 1812 in that xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx. The form of government was also to be determined from the results of the War of 1812 because Great Britain's parliamentary form of government differs from that of the United States of America's federalist form of government.
